

Blended intensive programme (BIP) organised by:

NEOLAiA SUMMER SCHOOL

Flavors of belonging: Emotions, Identities and Food Heritage

February - June 2027

On site activities: from 7th to 18th June 2027

Location: Tours, France

Interested in using food to explore contemporary social, cultural and environmental challenges?

Are you curious to discover the region of Tours and exchange with international students and teachers?

Do you want to discover interdisciplinary research approach in the Social Sciences & Humanities?

The programme explores the intersections between food, displacement, heritage, identities, and sustainability through interdisciplinary Social Sciences and Humanities perspectives. Key topics include cultural representations of food, food heritage and memory, displacement and belonging, intercultural dialogue, sustainability challenges, community resilience, and digital and participatory research methodologies.

WHEN ?

Online part: February to June 2027

On site part: 7th to 18th June 2027 in Tours

WHO SHOULD APPLY ?

All students from Bachelor to Doctoral Studies interested in Social Sciences and Humanities.

English B2 level is required

HOW MUCH DOES IT COSTS DURING THE ON-SITE TWO WEEKS?

Costs for travel and accommodation during the on-site weeks can be covered by Erasmus+ Contact your home university to secure your Erasmus+ and join this programme!

QUALIFICATION TO BE OBTAINED?

4 ECTS credits
100 hours of student's workload